Today I arrived in Maassluis, the Netherlands!

Even though I am feeling quite jet-lagged from the long flight, I went out to explore this lovely city, near by Rotterdam.

Today was the city's annual 'Spring Fair'!

I made and ate poffertjes (small dutch pancakes), ate ice-cream, tried some yummy dutch cheese, and rode on a bicycle.

It was a great day!

Sun, 31 May - Today I went to a 'Star Wars' birthday party at a pancake farm. I ate popovers again and other Dutch snacks.

Sat, 6 June - Today the sun was shining and so we sat in the garden, enjoying the great weather. I also played in the sand pit.

Sunday, 7 June - Today I went to see some Dutch windmills!
