

Hi Dylan!

Here I am visiting Great- Uncle Noel in his garden in Walton-on-the-hill! And then, here I am at Cousin Ellie's new flat in Crystal Palace, London.

In my next message you will see some dinosaurs!

Best wishes, Flat Stanley

These dinosaurs are in Crystal Palace Park- you guessed it- they're not real! But they are 150 years old and are a listed monument. They are a short walk from where Cousin Ellie lives.

In the third picture I am with Cousin Jenny by a Victorian stone sphynx- this is part of the old 'Crystal Palace', a huge building made of glass and steel which burned down nearly 80 years ago. The communications tower is a TV transmitter on top of the hill, and you can see it for miles.

More in a minute!

Dear Dylan,

I went for a walk in London with Cousin Ellie and Jenny. Here we are at the Horniman Museum cafe and I'm having a traditional English snack of a scone with cream and jam!

At the moment I'm with Cousin Jenny at her house in Somerset, and I hope to send you a picture from there very soon, then I think I'll be coming home.

Bye for now!

Flat Stanley
